INDEX

TO THE

TWENTY-SIXTH VOLUME

OF THE

Weekly Entertainer.

A.

AGRICULTURAL reports, 44, 126, 229, 310.

Agriculture, Sir John Sinclair's ſketch of the views of the Board of, 81.

Allen, character of the late Mr. by Biſhop Hurd, 457.

Amuck, explanation of the phraſe running, 255.

April-fool day, humours of an, 41.

Anagrams, 358, 458, 477. Anſwers to, 17, 98, 198.

Anecdote of an Engliſh travelveller, 17. of American gratitude to Count de Graſſe and his family, 37. an affecting one of a father and ſon, 45. of Protagoras, 55. of Wright, of Derby, a celebrated painter, 74. of John Dunn, the old Iriſh Linen Man, 75. of ingratitude properly puniſhed, 77. of a female who enliſted as a ſoldier, 88. of a remarkable inſtance of re-animation, 89. relative to a French wine-merchant, 93. of the magnanimity of Louis XIV. 96. of the Prince of Wales and the Earl of Egremont, 137. of Mr. Gibbon and Mr. C. J. Fox, 145. of an innkeeper and his gueſt, 146. of two riders and a Jew, 155. of the late Duke of Bedford and Lord Baltimore, 183. of Lord Aſhburton, 189. of Roubilliac, 193. of Captain Moore, 194. of Sir Thomas More, 197. of Lycurgus, 217. of the Rajah of Tanjore, ibid. of Louis the Fourteenth, 255. of generoſity to negro ſlaves, 256. relative to phyſicians and their patients, 277. of Pope Julio the Second, 296. ſhocking one reſpecting a criminal execution in France, 311. of Mrs. Piozzi, ibid. of the late Dr. Smith, Biſhop of Limerick, 355. reſpecting Lymington, in Hants, 356. of the hotel of St. Paul, built by Charles V. 375. of the Counteſs of Dalkeith, 376. of a gentleman who was informed againſt, 377. of the inſolent behaviour of a barriſter and the ſimplicity of a countryman, 417. of the celebrated Mr. Locke, 455. of the Mahometans, 457. of James I. 475. reſpecting the Reſtoration of Charles II. 489. of Quaſhi, a Weſt Indian ſlave, 513. of Clyſthenes, Prince of Sicyonia, 514. of Britiſh generoſity, 516.

Anecdotes

Anecdotes of Queen Anne, 7. of Cardinal Richelieu, 29. of Sir Richard Steele, 70. of Count de Sombreuil, 150. of ſome of the moſt eminent of the French Emigrants who were engaged in the late unfortunate affair at Quiberon Bay, 231. of Admiral Montagu, 315. of an extortionate farmer, 316. of the generoſity of the non-commiſſioned officers and privates of the Royal Lancaſhire regiment, 317. of Vandille, the Elwes of France, 330. of Louis XI. 336.
Arabs, curious inſtance of their ſuperſtition and abhorrence of Chriſtians, 136.
Arithmetic, on the advantages of, 181.
Arms, coats of, 357.

B.

Bakewell, memoirs of the late Mr. of Diſhley, 341, 510.
Bears, Dr. Lyſons's account of the office of the Chief Maſter of them in the reign of James the Firſt, 373.
Belleiſle, brief account of, 184.
Bon mot, 17.
Botany Bay, ſome account of, 130.
Bourbon, Maria Thereſa Charlotte de, daughter of Louis the Sixteenth, memoir in her behalf, 50.
Bread corn, on the nature and ſtate of the ſupply in, 172. correſpondence on that ſubject between Vice Admiral Waldegrave, and the then Lord Mayor of London, Thomas Skinner, Eſq. 394. report of the Committee of the Houſe of Commons on the ſame ſubject, 472. important information reſpecting it, by the corporation of Oxford, 410. anſwer to, 451, 467.
Brick, tile, &c. hint to manufacturers of, 277.
Britiſh ſeamen, remarkable inſtance of their bravery, 475.
Broderick, Miſs Ann, account of her trial for the murder of George Errington, Eſq. at Gray's Thurrock, in Eſſex, 61.

C.

Callao, ſtriking account of its deſtruction, 136.
Cafe, a curious, 237.
Caſtor oil, extracts from Dr. Canvane's diſſertation on, 131.
Charades, 58, 118, 158, 217, 218, 238, 318, 338, 397, 418, 438, 497, 498, 518. Anſwers to, 37, 137, 178, 277, 317, 318, 437, 497, 517.
Cheſtnut tree, Mr. Granger's obſervations on the cultivation of it, 154.
Clergy, thoughts on their preſent ſtate, by Mr. Macdonald, 89.
Complaints, on the propenſity to, and the averſion to remedy, 32.
Conjugal love, ludicrous inſtances of, 330.
Corn, on the propriety of allowing a free trade in that article, 4.
Cornwall, account of the mines of that county, by Mr. Frazier, 431.
Correſpondence, ſingular, 327.
Country gentlemen, hint to, 157.
Cruſades, remarks on the, 3.
Curioſity, a venerable, 101.
Curioſity, on, a rhapſody, 301, 324.

D.

Deaths, account of two very extraordinary, 297.
D'Eon, curious advertiſement of the celebrated Chevalier, 195.
Diamond, John, account of that ſingular character, 295.
Dictionaries of arts and ſciences, their uſe, 15.

Difference and agreement, or Sunday morning, by Mrs. Barbauld, 465.
Dinner and a defert, a, 14.
Diſcoveries of general uſe to ſociety, Sir John Sinclair's plan to promote them, 151.
Diſcovery, account of a late voyage of, 5.
Diſeaſe, Sir John Sinclair's account of a very extraordinary one to which the inhabitants of Delting, in Scotland, are ſubject, 36.
Diver, account of the great ſpeckled, or loon, 495.

E.

Engliſh, humorous remarks on ſome of their favourite ſpectacles and diverſions, by the Rev. W. Robarts, 8, 21.
Engliſh ſignal towers, account of the, 242.
Enigmas, 18, 38, 78, 238, 258, 226, 318, 358, 377, 398, 438, 477. Anſwers to, 77, 138, 178, 198, 277, 298, 357, 377, 397, 437.
Epitaphs, 57, 59, 117, 257, 329, 337.
Equinoctial line, ceremony obſerved in paſſing it, 321.
European politics, general review of, 24, 111, 240, 286, 461.

F.

Farmers, hints to, 251.
Female heroiſm, ſingular inſtance of, 512.
Female dreſs, on the indecency of the, 196.
Fiſh, accounts of the methods of catching them uſed in China, 241.
Fragment, a, 204.
France, affecting incidents in the revolutionary priſons of that country, related by Miſs Helen Maria Williams, 232, 247, 261. her account of ſome ſhocking enormities committed by the tyrants of that country, 491.
France, preſent ſtate of, and the fate of the Gallican church, compared with the prophecies in the Revelations, 201.
France, royal family of, account of the, 54.

G.

George I. ſketch of his character, 87.
German Prince, noble behaviour of one, 324.
Gold mine, account of the lately diſcovered one at Rathdrum, in Ireland, 308, 353.
Grain, important information reſpecting the high price of, 410.
Guillotine, hiſtory of the, 344.

H.

Hayes, Captain, particulars reſpecting his valuable diſcoveries on his voyage to New Guinea, 144.
Helſton, account of a ſingularly independent election there, 177.
Hen, a method to make them lay eggs all the winter, 497.
Hint, a, 297.
Hiſtory, remarks on, 97.
Holberg, Baron, account of, 290.
Horſe races, excellent method of diſpoſing of winnings at them, 76.

I.

Incident, an affecting, 266.
Ingratitude, extraordinary inſtance of, 86.
Inſcription, remarks on one in Sherborne church, which has been highly extolled, 107.
Intolerance, cruelty, and brutal treatment, account of that which diſgraced the contending parties in the reign of Henry III. of France, 366.

K.

Knowledge, learning, and taſte, in Great Britain, hiſtory of, during the reign of James II. Part the ſecond, 381, 405, 426, 445.

L.

Llangunner, in Wales, account of, 70.
London brewery, hiſtory of, 414.
Louis XVIII. copy of a proclamation iſſued by him, 215, 221.
Luxury, Mr. Wraxall's account of the progreſs of, and ſplendour of dreſs in France, during the age of Henry III. 331.
Luxury, remarkable inſtance of it in the antient Perſian Kings, 95.

M.

Manheim, deſcription of, by Mr. Eſte, 291.
Manners, on the prevalence of ſavage, in France, during the reign of Henry IV. 349.
Milton's Paradiſe Loſt, errors into which young perſons are led by it, 515.
Mirzah, the ſecond viſion of, 121.
Morning viſitors, hint to, 157.
Mount Garth, whimſical character of Lord, 127.

O.

Oriental aſſembly, etiquette of one, 16.
Orthography, curious ſpecimen of, 497.

P.

Parſees, account of the, a ſingular people of Bombay, by Lieutenant Moor, 433.
Pillar, a very uſeful one, 197.
Poor, advice to the, 117.
Portugal, account of Mr. Murphy's travels to that country, 190, 243, 272, 281, 304.
Potatoes, method of preſerving them againſt froſt, 425.
Proviſions, thoughts on the real cauſes of the preſent dearth of, in anſwer to the reſolutions of the corporation of Oxford, addreſſed to their repreſentatives, and inſerted in the Entertainer for November 23, 1795, 451, 467.

Q.

Queſtions, 18, 38, 98, 178, 218, 318, 377, 477, 498. Anſwers to, 58, 157, 257, 337, 417, 517.

R.

Rebuſſes, 38, 58, 77, 78, 98, 118, 138, 158, 178, 198, 258, 278, 296, 257, 418, 518. Anſwers to, 17, 77, 97, 117, 158, 197, 217, 238, 317, 357, 397, 417, 437, 457, 458, 477.
Reflections, 96, 236, 316, 376, 396, 416, 456, 476, 496, 517.
Reflections, moral and political, by Biſhop Shipley, 12.
Retired life, miſeries of a, 46.
Rhine, picturesque deſcription of that river, from its ſources in Switzerland to its entrance, under different names, into the German Ocean: With hiſtorical anecdotes and reflections, 90, 106.
Robeſpierre, view of his character, 312.
Roman hiſtory, judicious and important remarks on the partial manner in which it is written, 35.

S.

Scarcity, on the cauſes of it, 84.
Signs, the hiſtory of, by the author of the Looker-on, 481, 501.
Sombreuil, Count de, copy of an affecting letter written by him, 175.
Sunk village, the, 490.
Surnames, on the origin of, 450.
Sultan and his Vizier, or the Sultan who received a blow, 1.

Teeth,

T.

Teeth, fatal conſequences of the tranſplantation of them, 237.
Timber floats on the Rhine, account of the, by Mrs. A. Radcliffe, 293.
Trials, intereſting, 52, 252, 322, 372.
Turner, Mr. William, ſome account of that learned diſſenting miniſter, 161.

V.

Verſes. Song, by Exonius H. 19. ode to ſolitude, by James Traer, of Taunton, 20. to Miſs L——, of Y——, near B—, ibid. the tempeſt, written June 1, 1795, 39. the ſolitary roſe trees, 40. the diſconſolate female, by J. Denoghue, 59. moderate liberty, 60. a ſailor's ſong, by Mrs. Yearſley, ibid. extract from Peter Pindar's poem, entitled "Hair Powder," 79. elegy on the tomb of ſome ſailors ſhipwrecked on the coaſt of Cornwall, 80. the duſty miller, ibid. lines on reading an anecdote of Mr. Paul Dutton, recorded in page 457 of the 25th volume of the Entertainer, 99. anticipation, or a preſentiment of a general peace, by Mr. Wainhouſe, 100. on thought, ibid. invocation to ſleep in a reſtleſs night, by R. Tucker, of Caſtle-Cary, 119. madrigal, by Exonius H. ibid. a remonſtrance to Mr. Pitt on the ſubject of hair-powder, ibid. to Mary, by J. B. jun. 120. Anna's complaint, or the miſeries of war, written in the Iſle of Thanet, 1794, by Mrs. Moody, 139. ſonnet, written at Mamhead, in Devonſhire, beneath an evergreen oak, by the Rev. Mr. Polwhele, 140. a morning walk, by J. Denoghue, 159, on William Earl of Mansfield, who died in March, 1793, ibid. ode to Flora, by Peter Luff, of Bridgwater, 179. ode to conſcience, by the ſame, 180. epitaph on the death of a canary bird, by a lady, 180. ode to my tea-pot, 199. lines by the Rev. Dr. Booker, of Dudley, on his planting ſome ivy round the towers of Dudley Caſtle, built A. D. 700, by Dodo, a Saxon General, addreſſed to the ivy-tree, 200. farewell to Exon, by Podarces, 219. pity, by Myra, 220. on ſummer, by T. D. 238. on being aſked why ſhe would not dreſs more in the faſhion, 240. a word of advice to Mr. Pitt on the hair powder bill, 259. the harveſt ſcene, 260. Horace, Book I. Ode 3, tranſlated by William Cobley, of Mr. Woolcott's ſchool, Southmolton, 279. the harveſt feaſt, tranſlated from Theocritus, by the Rev. Mr. Polwhele, 280. lines written on the death of a poor but worthy labouring man, lately deceaſed, who has left a wife and ſix young children to deplore his loſs, 299. deſcription of a pariſh poor-houſe, ibid. extempore anſwer from a gentleman to a young lady who expreſſed a deſire to ſee ſome of his verſes, 300. Ovid's Metamorphoſis, Book I. Fable 11, tranſlated by W. Cobley, of Mr. Woolcott's ſchool, Southmolton, 319. elegy to the memory of a deceaſed and much lamented friend, 320. Ovid's Metam. Fable 12, tranſlated by William Cobley, of Mr. Woolcott's ſchool, Southmolton, 339. evening, a ſonnet, written Auguſt 13, 1795, by Emma, 340. tributary ſtanzas, addreſſed to Lady Ann Fitzroy, on her philanthropy while a priſoner at Quimper, in France, by Mr. William Swords, late of the Theatre-Royal, Covent Garden, ibid. lines lines addreſſed to a young lady on her joining the choir in ſinging the 63d hymn of Dr. Watts's firſt book, after hearing a ſermon preached on Revelations, v. 9, 359. ſtanzas, occaſioned by the deaths of three children in one family, in the courſe of a few days, in Wiltſhire, humbly addreſſed to the parents, ibid. inſcription on a Magdalen, 360. verſes to a lady, ibid. Alwin and Emma, or the ſacked village, by R. Pacificator, junior, of Grimſby, in Lincolnſhire, 380. lines on the death of a young gentleman who caught a fever in the diſcharge of his medical duty, 399. Dido, an elegy, 400. autumn, by T. D. 419. the muleteer, 420. acroſtic, on retiring to a beautiful ſeat on the banks of the Hudſon's River, in North America, 420. Ovid's Metam. Fable xiii. tranſlated by W. Cobley, of Mr. Woolcot's ſchool, Southmolton, 439. elegy on the death of Miſs Harriet Taylor, by her father, John Taylor, Eſq. ibid. in imitation of Horace, by J. Denoghue, 459. ſonnet to peace, by Emma, ibid. dirge to the memory of Collins, 460. ode to war, by Mr. Whitehouſe, 479. addreſs to the winds, by Mrs. Radcliffe, 480. ſonnet, ibid. lines occaſioned by hearing of his Majeſty's eſcape, by J. Denoghue, of Barnſtaple, 499. of claſſick learning, by W. L. D. of St. John's College, 500. invocation to taſte, by Clericus, ibid. ſonnet, by Mr. Bowles, ibid. on the departure of a friend, by J. Denoghue, 519. on the laſt day, a fragment, by Emma, 520.

Veſuvius, Mount, account of the eruptions there in June and July, 1794. 345, 361, 401, 421, 441, 485, 505.

W.

Weather, Dr. Kirwin's obſervations on the, 307.

Weſtmoreland, Earl of, ſketch of his character, 55.

Wheaten bread, expedients for reducing the conſumption of grain and fleſh proviſions, and ſupplying wholeſome ſubſtitutes for that article, 72.

White, William, account of his trial for murder, 156.

Wild ducks, Arabian method of taking them, 437.

Will, a ſingular, 156.

Y.

Young ladies, hints reſpecting their education, 150.

Z.

Zinzendorff, character of Count, 253.